Whitman Symmes, Lost Four Days, Found Near Four Hill Mine Saturday

Whitman Symmes, mining engineer of state-wide reputation, and his brother-in-law, Everett Boyman, were lost for four days and three nights in the snowy wastes on the trail to the Four Hill mine, 17 miles in the mountains east of Downieville and were rescued Saturday afternoon by a Downieville party of five men on snow shoes, after they had practically been given up for dead.

Symmes and Boyman, against the advice and warning of Tony Costa, Tony Lavezolla, "Strap" Nelson, and other experienced packers, set out on the trail to the Four Hill mine Wednesday afternoon on snow shoes with 40 pound packs on their backs. They were told that the snow was deep and the trail impassable. Symmes, has had much experience in the Sierras and has often made trips on snow shoes. His companion, however, had never worn snow shoes.

When found they were within a mile of the Four Hill mine, but were definitely lost, did not know where they were. They had come within three miles of the mine on Friday, but being uncertain of their location, had finally turned back to the Golden Valley mine and had there spent the night. They renewed their attempt Saturday morning ,and were finally found by the party of searchers on snow shoes, who had left Downieville Saturday morning.

Both men were somewhat exhausted, but recuperated quickly from their fatigue. Their 40-packs contained enough necessary food and blankets so they had not suffered.

The rescuers returned to Downieville today, and Symmes and Boyman are expected tomorrow.

Whitman Symmes, graduate of Harvard, member of several San Franisco clubs, is known throughout California. He was for many years superintendent of a large group of mines on the Comstock lode. He is now interested in several properties in Downieville and Alleghany. He now resides in Downieville.

Nevada County School Budget Slashed $34,090

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 27—(UP)—A cut of $48,500,000 has been made in current elementary high school budgets in an attempt to meet existing economic conditions, Vierling Kersey, state director of education, said today.

Of this total, a reduction of $34,090.63 was made in Nevada county school budgets, or 14.4 per cent as compared to school districts receipts for 1931-32, a survey by the state department of education revealed.

"This reduction," Kersey said, "amounts to 27.4 per cent for the entire state, or one and one-half times greater than earlier estimates indicated.

"The $48,500,000 reduction in school operating costs which district boards have brought about offers the best possible answer to proponents of pending legislative proposals to transfer district budget control from local school authorities to county boards of supervisors."

Kersey further pointed out that the per centage of reduction probably would be increased by local tax delinquencies. He said:

"The state bears about 17 per cent of total school costs. The balance of 83 per cent is borne by real and personal property taxed by districts and counties. Delinquencies have caused a crisis new to California. It appears inevitable that many schools will be forced to close this spring without completing the minimum number of days of operations which the law requires."

SPANISH MINE IS SOON TO REOPEN

Plans are rapidly shaping up for the reopening of the Spanish mine at Washington, about the first of April.

Walter Bradley, Jr., who is on his weddin gtrip in the Hawaiian Islands will be superintendent of the poperty.

This mine produces gold, silver and baryites. Many tons of baryite are on the dump and several years supply are in the mine. This ore is used in the making of paints.

New and modern mahinery is to be installed.

Forty men will be put to work.

HOGE DAY SHIFT WINS SAFETY RECORD BANQUET

The day shift of the Hoge mine won the contest between night shift and day shift, as regards clean accident records, and were tendered the dinner promised the winner by General Manager Arthur W. Hoge, at the National Hotel Saturday night.

At banquet, Mr. Hoge and others made short talks, praising the good record of the day shift which won by a narrow margin over the night shift and several good suggestions were made for reducing the accident hazards still more. About fifty men were seated at the tables.

Throngh a typographical error in Friday's edition of the Nugget, the Hoge mine was cited as handling 600 tons of ore per day when the number of tons should have been 60 per day.

LUMBER New business fairly good, with demand exceeding production. Further slow improvement in next 60 days is expected.

ROOSEVELT CONFERS WITH A. P. GRANNINI

A. P. Giannini, who was one of the prominent men recently called to New York by President-elect Roosevelt, was well impressed with the plans discussed for the relief of farmers and home owners and for remedying our other economic ills, it was learned today. Mr. Ginnini spent over an hour with Mr. Roosevelt. The discussion concerned international affairs and foreign debts as well as the various lomestic problems. Mr. Giannini also had an opportunity to meet some members of the prospective cabinet and discuss these matters with them.

NEVADA CO. SCHOOL APPORTIONMENT READY

SUPERVISORS TO HEAR PETITION FOR ANNEXATION

Much local interest is manifest in the petition to include the Oakland School District in the Nevada City high school district, a petition to that effect having been filed with the Nevada County Board of Supervisors.

The proponents of the petition assert that the elementary school at Gold Flat (Oakland District) would remain just as it now exists, the present curriculm of the primary and grammar grades continuing two teachers, one in each section, the school and the physical properties of the school remaining under the jurisdiction of a regularly elected board of trustees as at present. If the project of the proposed distirct annexation is approved by the Supervisors, the proponents of the measure hold that it will be a matter affecting only graduates of the rural school who may later enter the Nevada City high school. They also claim that it will ultimately affect a greater economy in the matter of school finances.

The opponents of this petition, however, construe the measure to mean the absorbing of the physical properties of the present Oakland School District as was the case in the recent consolidation of the Blue Tent, Indian Flat and Willow Valley Districts with the Nevada City high school district and a centralizing of power in that body. Also they fear that this proposed change would mean higher taxation to the property owners and as the tax-payers of the Oakland district already pay a school tax to the general school fund they naturally feel that it would be onerous to add a penny more to their tax burden.

Holding to this view of possible loss of their treasured school building which they have recently placed in repair and loss of the grounds which surround it and form a picturesque setting with its stately pine trees rising on the crest of the hill at the head of Gold Flat the protestants are assembling a comparative schedule of the cost of transportation of pupils of the Gold Flat section to school of this city by bus line or bus lines, (about 76 pupils now attend Gold Flat school,) and the cost of maintaining the school on the same basis as it now exists.

The matter will come up before the board of superivsors a week from today at the regular monthly meeting of that body at which time a representative of the state board of education will be present to clarify the matter of taxation in the proposed annexation of the rural district contiguous to the present lines of the Nevada high school distirct and both interested bodies will be given an opportunity to present their views to the speaker and the board of supervisors.

As retrenchment is the key-note of the present state legislature in regards to school financial matters it is assumed that the visiting state school official will advocate the cutting down of local costs to a minimum.

As a matter of retrenchment in the financial set-up of the state school matters our own legislative representative, Assemblyman Jesse Mayo of Angels Camp, has introduced in the assembly a bill which would prevent the borrowing of school children from larger districts to make up the minimum of five children allowed for the operation of any district.

This practice has been largely responsible for increased cost of school expnses in Nevada County.

In this construction it should be noted that there have always been a large attendance of pupils at Oaklnd school, since the district was formd over 70 years ago.

Many pupils from Piety Hill, of their own volotion now attend the rural school in preference to coming into Nevada City.

This questionnaire has been answered as follows:

1. In this proposed annexation of the Oakland School District to the Nevada high school district would that body have jurisdiction over the physical properties of Oakland district? No.

2. Would the Nevada City high school district be empowered to hire the teachers for the pupils of this district in the event that said annexation were completed? No.

3. Would this union of both school districts eliminate annual election of school trustees of Oakland School District? No.

DAIRYMAN TELLS "INSIDE" STORY OF THE MILK WAR

Declaring that the so-called "milk war" in Nevada county is really no war at all but an attempt on the part of certain dairymen to defeat the introduction into this county of pasteuried milk, L. B. Sylvia, one of the owners of the Chicago Park dairy, yesterday gave what he regards as the "inside" story of the agitation that is now distrubing the dairymen of this county.

"No milk from outside the county has been introduced in either Grass Valley or Nevada City," Sylvia stated. "A hue and cry has been raised against outside milk, but the real fight is against pasteurized milk, which my partner, A. Locatelli, and myself are now selling.

"We have purchased the necessary equipment to provide such of our customers as demand it, with pasteurized milk. Many women with young children prefer pasteurized milk, and some physicians prescribe it for children.

"Our efforts to provide our customers with pasteurized milk have disturbed our competitors in this field. They have charged that milk from outside of the county has been shipped in. But their real grievance is our introduction of pasteurized milk.

"Now, while it is true that pasteurization of milk permits sales of a poorer grade of milk, with a higher bacteria count, than is case with raw milk, my partner and I are selling the same high grade of milk, whether raw or pasteurized. In other words, the raw milk that goes into our delivery bottles and the raw milk that is pasteurized and then bottled, are exactly the same. Both come from our herd of T. B. tested cows, and from our clean milking sheds, which are regularly inspected by the state sanitary inspector and which regularly receive his O. K.

"Pasteurized milk is a comparatively new thing in Nevada county, but there has long been a demand for it. My partner and I have decided that it is worth while to try to supply that demand. And that is all there is to this "milk war."

UNEMPLOYMENT INCREASES LOAD SCHOOLS CARRY

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 26—The full gravity of the poblem confronting California's schools because of the increased burdens being placed on them due to unemployment was revealed today in this city by Roy W. Cloud, executive secretary of the California Teachers Association, following a survey of increases in school attendance due to depression in California cities.

In San Francisco alone, according to figures by superintendent of schools Joseph M. Gwinn, 3,400 graduate high school pupils, unable to find work, have re-enrolled in day and night courses. Proportionate ratios are found over the state, according to Cloud's statement, with the Los Angeles figures even more startling. In that city enrollments of former students total 6,955. Similar conditions are found in junior colleges, teacher colleges and the state universitity.

BACK TO SCHOOL

"Throughout the entire state," said Cloud, "there is a 'back-to-school' movement that must be appreciated in its fullest significance before the schools are subjected to hasty, political or ill advised efforts at legislative retrenchment at Sacramento. Especially is this true with proposed bills, whether introduced by the present state administration or by individual legislators, that aim to impose fees for night school attendance, that seek to reduce the compulsory school age, or that would arbitrarily limit adult education or continuation schools.

"In San Fancisco there is an increased enrollment of former students unable to find work of 3,400; in Los Angeles of 6,955; in Oakland, 4,335; in San Jose, 450, to name a few high lights by way of illustration.

CAUSED BY UNEMPLOYMENT

"This heavy additional enrollment is caused entirely by the inability of these young men and women to secure positions and because of thei ambition to utilize their idle time the better to prepare, by further education, to fit themselves for employment when times improve.

"So long as they are kept in school there is undoubtedly a certain percentage of these pupils who are definitely prevented from joining the great ranks of the idle and unemployed.

SOCIAL PROBLEMS SOLVED

"Should the fee system be established, not only would these tens of thousands of ambitious youth be deprived of their opportunities for education, but the inevitable result would follow of turning them into the streets, with the consequent police and social welfare problems that would result. Our floating and discontented juvenile population, both here and over the nation, is rapidly becoming an increasingly acute social problem.

'A similar criticism applies to bills proposing to reduce the school age limit. This would result in throwing many thousands of boys and girls into direct competition with labor at a time when labor is desparately struggling with its own problems of unemployment.

NO TUITION COSTS

"For many years California has maintained a free educational system in which children from the kinergarten age to the university have had the right to attend any of the state's publicly supported institutions without tuition costs.

Attempted Break Of Two Folsom Convicts Foiled One Quits; One Dies

FOLSOM PRISON, Feb. 27—(UP)—A desperate but futile attempt by two convicts to escape failed this morning when one convict committed suicide and the other surrendered to Warden Smith.

Marten Colson, 29 years old, a San Diego murderer and Lloyd Sampsell, 33 years old, a Los Angeles and Alameda hold-up man forced their way to the prison hospital and then to the administration building, both armed with guns they had manufactured themselves. In the administration building they compelled the telephone operator to call the warden to the building immediately. The warden sensed something wrong and ordered the building surrounded by guards.

When the two convicts discovered this, Colson stepped into a bathroom and killed himself with a shot through the head, and after a brief parley Sampsel surrendered.

Colson killed himself with a home-made pistol after it beame apparent that the desperate attempt to break prison had failed

Armed with their home-made guns, Colson and Sampsell made their way from the cell block into the prison hospital this morning, holding up the hospital guard, Martin Eng.

They next "covered" the door tender, Jerry Drullinger, at the entrance to the administration building and succeeded in making their way, with their captives, to the switchboard where the civilian operator, Sherman Powell, sat in the administration building.

They forced Powell to put in a call for Warden Court Smith, asking him to come to the administration building at once, and bring with him his secretary, Barnett Huse.

Committee Of Fifteen Reports To Governor

The Committee of Fifteen, specially appointed by Governor Rolph to investigate matters pertaining to mining and compensation insurance has presented its report to the Governor.

The report, which is lengthly, reviews particularly the faults of the present compensation insurance laws and makes certain recommendations which have been embodied in bills and offered in the state legislature, 28 of which were sponsored by Jesse M. Mayo of Angels Camp, assemblyman fom this district.

The recommendations made by the committee are as follows:

1. That medical treatment be limited to a total of 240 weeks, providing, however, that in extreme cases, where injuries persist longer than that term, patients be sent to public institutions.

2. That awards made for loss of wages be based on actual rather than theoretical averages of what the injured person might receive. This is recommended to provide for the staggered plan of employment now being practiced.

3. That awards to alien dependents of injured persons be limited to 50 per cent of the amount awarded those living within the United States, this owing to the difficulty of proving or disproving dependency of those living outside the United States.

4. That a committee shall be appointed to act in an advisory capacity to the Industrial Accident Commission, this committee to consist of three medical men, one to be named by the employer, one by the injured workman, and one by the insurance carrier.

This committee would examine the injured and report to the Commission. Their expenses to be paid by employer, the injured, and the insurance company, respectively, without cost to the state. Their report would be used by the Commission in determining the award.

5. That the Governor instruct the Industrial Accident Commission to interpret the workmen's compensation law with the best interest of both labor and industry in view.

6. That a law be enacted requiring hoisting engineers to pass an examination similar to that provided by the laws of Nevada, which make such a requirement, and provides certificates therefor, and for their renewal at stated intervals.

This report is signed by Arthur B. Foote, chairman, M. J. Brock, secretary, George W. Starr, H. R. Plate, Frank A. Crampton, P. W. Racey, C. Chester Brown and Charles L. Gilmore. A minority report was signed by J. C. Chandler and Arthur W. Brown Jr. Absent from the meeting which adopted the report were S. H. Ashe, Frank C. MacDonald, A. E. Stephens, J. A. Pettis, Willfam Boucher.

Is the United States headed toward a dictatorship?

Could the proposal of Congress to give the incoming president autocratic powers to recognize the federal government be regarded as a step in that direction? And if so, many California editors inquire, what can a dictator do for a people that free government has not done?

However, if President-Elect Roosevelt proves a wise "dictator," why not let him have a four-year fling at it, ask many others.

"Members of Congress contemplate, with horror and dismay, the prospects of having certain of their perogatives taken over by the head of the nation," said the Santa Barbara Morning Press. "It is abhorrent to them to think that Mr. Roosevelt could, if he wished, cut down the appropriations they have built up with an eye to placing their constituents back home. They shiver with apprehension at the mere thought of permitting any one man to exercise the power of decapitating of unnecessary and inefficient job holders'."

The suggestion of a dictatorship has a somewhat startling sound remarks the Orange Daily News, adding:

"We are, of course, not headed for a dictatorship, but the very mention of the idea should direct our thinking along saner lines. We are the greatest nation of history even if we are in difficulty. We came to our present estate through the processes of free government. If there is a way out of our troubles, we shall find it through the processes of free government. Those who accept dictatorships have never known liberty."

Commenting on refusal of Democrats in Congress to support similar legislation for President Hoover, the Redwood City Tribune said:

"There was nothing against the proposition except that it came from the opposition party, and it would never do to allow anything creditable to be done by a Republican administration. Now that it appears that the Democrats in Congress are willing to confer that same power upon President-elect Roosevelt, the Republicans are growing rebellious."

"Those people who express fear of the proposal to give the incoming president more 'dictatorial' power than had ever been granted any chief executive, are no doubt the same class of citizens that resented every effort of President Hoover to take those steps he well knew Congress was unable or willing to take," said the Santa Rosa Republican.

"A heartening feature in connection with the new proposal is the entire willingness of the president-elect to accept the full responsibility that would be his by reason of the power and authority placed in his hands," states the Bakersfield Californian.

Therefore, concludes the Visalia Times Delta, "it might be well to let Roosevelt try his hand. Certainly we could not be much worse off than we are in the present situation. With the power resting in Congress to recall its action on a two-thirds vote, the people stand in no danger of losing their constitutional rights of selfgovernment."

Business conditions in the Philippines show no improvement, with credits and collections difficult. Industrial activity is at a high level in Japan. Little change in England. Italy showed a heavy unfavorable trade balance in 1932. Conditions in Austrian industries are unfavorable. In Finland, the low exchange value of the mark during 1932 enabled export industries to increase sales abroad, and marked gains were shown in textile, foodstuffs, metal and other industries.

Our Will

Dedicated to the Roger's fans of Nevada County

He's not a handsome fellow,
But there's laughter in his eyes;
And the grin he wears continuous
Is both humorous and wise.
Sure, he guys us most unmerciful,
But he does it with a smile
And in readin' of his writin'
We are happier for a while.

Ot' we know he'll never, never
Take a prize at beauty shows;
And he cuts no swanky figure
In his individual clothes;
But he knows much more about us
Then our mothers ever did,
He drags out our faults and foibles
That we thought were safely hid,

Sure, he laughs both at and with us,
But we just don't seem to care;
For he does it wit a kindly
Whimsical and boyish air.
All he knows he oft informs us
In the papers may be found,
But it bears another meaning
When our William turns it round.

Just as long as he keeps writin'
We'll be readin' you can bet;
And the things he grins and tells us,
Are the things we can't forget;
Yes, he surely ain't no beauty,
But we like him 'cause he's wise,
And we love the impish twinkle
Hidin' in his laughing eyes.

WEEKLY COMMENT

By Christian Andersen

Nearly every small town in this land of ours boasts a newspaper of some kind. The men engaged in the newspaper business are not only craftsmen and artists, they must also be business men, the returns financially in the small towns are not large but the game is interesting.

The Nugget "your paper" is read today with an ever increasing interest that practically has no parallel among publications of comparatively small circulation. This interest is sincere and intelligent. The Nugget appeals to the alert active young minded person in all walks of life and to leaders in their aspheres. Anything with the earmarks of progress commands attention. There you have a composite picture of the average subscriber to the Nugget.

When a merchant buys advertising space he pays for reader interest. This I believe the Nugget has in a very positive way. The owners of these small papers are vitally interested in the welfare of the community served by the paper. So if you will pardon me for what I am going to say. Obey that impulse, advertize in, and subscribe for the Nugget.

Roger Babson in true Babsonian style denounces Technocracy with great verbosity, he says it can't be done. Well a baby can't walk when it is only six months old and maybe when Technocracy grows up it may really amount to something.

Twelve banks in the east paid an average of 22 per cent dividends in 1932 and Mellon's bank, the Union Trust Company, paid 200 per cent. Not so bad in these times.

I would be a staunch advocate of a comprehensive sales tax if 50 per cent of it would be returned to the states to apply on property tax reductions.

What has become of the old-fashioned "drummer" he of the smutty stories, the bombastie, the bragging, drinking "knight of the road." His kind has been forgotten in the limbo of the past and his place taken by the sober industrious business getting salesman of today who sells his wares by pshycology instead of bribery, and such stories as are found along the clean road to progress.

A SWIMMING POOL!

A move is on foot to transfer the bond issue for th emunicipal swimming pool to improvement on the water situation. Should the students of the Nevada City high school and especially the citizens of this town stand for such a proceedure? Because through neglect of the water situation at the proper time, should the swimming pool, a necessary asset to any city, be sacrificed?

Citizens have come to think of Nevada City as a summer resort. Also have the patrons of this resort. But Nevada City has no swimming facilities except polluted Deer Creek which certainly does not serve as a suitable and sanitary swimming place.

Without going deeply into the matter it stands to reason that Nevada City noted for its beneficial climate, lacks that which is prevalent in every incorporated city of importance. There should be no objection to public swimming pools for all are now conducted under the most sanitary conditions, under California requirement and law. Why should Nevada City send her guests and especially her citizens to the neighboring city to swim? For no reason whatsoever.

If the problem of a most suitable, obtainable, and least expensive location is holding up progress in the building of a pool here is a solution. The Nevada City high school grounds are extensive. This site is easily accessible to strangers entering the town by reason of the fact that it is near the main highway and the lower Grass Valley road. At the same time partial privacy prevails which is a desirable fact.

Students during the warm months of the school term, will have access to the pool in association with the type of Physical Education now being given. State Physical Education instructors advocate swimming as a major recreation most beneficial to the health of the participants.

As time goes on, plans might be made for a municipal gymnasium, managed in conjunction with the pool.

Citizens will be admitted free of charge while outsiders might be charged a small sum, thereby partially maintaining the upkeep. The students having passed their Senior Life Saving, could be put in charge at times thus helping to defray expenses.

This solution is not impossible, on the other hand, it is a most feasible solution. If one will take the trouble to look into this solution, he will find that "it will hold water." A month ago the reservoirs did not hold water, placing the city in dire circumstances. If the swimming pool fund did not exist, how would the city remedy that trouble? Because there is $11,000 on hand, does it mean that we should turn to it to cure every ill of the city?

IN MEMORY

In memory of Mrs. Mary Treglawn, mother of Mr. William Treglown of the Nevada City high school, the staff takes this opportunity to express their regrets on behalf of the Student Body. She was a beloved mother, well known for her wonderful character. Mr. Treglown, we are with you in your recent sorrow, and appreciate your valuable presence at all times at school.

HOPING

Today the sky is full of clouds,
And flowers are wet with dew,
I hope the sunshine comes right out,
And leaves the sky real blue.

Tomorrow we may have some rain,
Perhaps we might have snow;
But surely, for myself, I wish
The clouds would quickly go.

Today the wind was blowing hard,
Which made me feel real sad,
But soon the clouds will roll away,
And leave me feeling glad.

BLAH BY BEN

From what we've heard, there are going to be some mighty interesting snaps in the Quill this year. You know, the ones taken unawares. We might say, Lovers, beware.

"Scoop" Wasley has organized a Gold Flat basket ball team. Scoops is the two forwards and guards while, Ralph Watters plays center. Freddie Hawk is water boy and coach. They have met and deefated the Red Dog Quintette, the Indian Flat Tom Toms, and the Sugar Loaf Sweeties.

Pete Orzdalli has threatened to tear down the school house barehanded if he doesn't get A in band. You see he's learning to play the drum. With Pete at the sticks there are going to be broken drum-heads all over the place.

PLAY CAST CHOSEN

Tryouts for the Student Body play met last night with Mr. Sweeney in charge. The play is "The Big Cheese," a comedy in three acts and Nevada Cityans should plan to attend the presentation to be held at the Nevada Theatre in about a month. Mr. Sweeney is to direct the play, and he annnounces that practice will begin tonight. The following students have been picked for the various parts: Charles Barkee, Wallace Moore, Henrietta Glenmon, Ruth Parker, Ruth Rector, Margaret Tenant, Warren Chapman, and Bob Tamblyn.

ASSEMBLY

On Friday, February the 24th, an assembly was held to discuss a system whereby those deserving honor would receive a letter.

Heretofore letters have been given solely for athletics, but in many of the schools letters are being given for a certain number of points in the following departments: Administrative, cultural, school service, and athletics. This gives the student who is outstanding in other school activities a chance to gain honor. Many students who do not go out for sports or are physically unable are outstanding in other activities and should be given credit.

Much discussion arose, some were in favor of the system and others were not. Among the points brought out by those not in favor were that letters seemed to be more for honor in athletics then for scholastic or honor in other school service.

This system will be perfected and if the students are in favor of it it will be put into affect.

SEARCHLIGHT LUNCHEON

The Searchlight Luncheon given last week at school was a great success. Linancially $25.00 was cleared the necessary yearly quota for payment on the mimeograph. The menu which include potato salad, hot dogs and buns with mustard, pickles, jello, cake, and chocolate. Due to the stormy weather that day, more students attended. Katherine Celio was in charge of the luncheon and with the help of the rest of the staff, put on a luncheon which was enjoyed by all the patrons.

LOG CABIN

LOG CABIN, Feb. 26—Mrs. Soly and Mrs. A. V. Starke, celebrated a joint birthday recently, skiing was on the morning program, Jigsaw Puzzles in the afternoon and card games in the evening. Turkey dinner and late buffet lunch was enjoyed.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. Soly, Dr. and Mrs. Stiles, W. Kessler and Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Starke, Charles Wilson Jr., and James Joubert came up from Sacramento Friyad on a visit to their parents. They returned Sunday evening.

Mandus Carlson, Mrs. Lydia Carlson, Arthur Rusaw and Mrs. Eva Rusaw motored to Grass Valley on business.

E. Collins arrived Monday afternoon with a truck load of building material and furniture for the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Carlson, which will be completed this week. The home has been built entirely by Mr. Carlson and for workmanship and artistry i tcan not be surpassed. The community is proud of this residence.

The Log Cabin truck went out to break the Marysville road to the top of Garden Valley grade and with the help of the Garden Valley men made fine progress. It is suggested that the county should help to keep this road open.

NORTH SAN JUAN

NORTH SAN JUAN, Feb. 26—F. M. Harris and W. E. Moulton have begun hydraulic operations at the Joaquin mine at Birchville. They are hoping for plenty of rain to insure a successful season.

A dance held in town Saturday night was well attended fully a hundred people being present.

She heard her dog barking up by the ditch and repeatedly called him, but he paid no attention. She finally investigated and found the deer. MOVES ANGORA GOATS TO MONTEZUMA HILL

Mr. Sandman passed through Nevada City Friday with a truck load of Angora goats, he was taking to Montezuma Hill.

It will be remembered that the Nugget carried an article in regards to the stealing of $10,000 in bonds from Mr. Sandman, who was then prospecting in the Quaker Hill section, and their recovery. He gave the bonds to his partner to deposit in the bank and instead of that he skipped out.

Mr. Sandman with the assistance of Sheriff Carter, caught the man in a Sacramento hospital where he was laid up from injuries sustained in an accident.

The venture in goat raising should prove fairly profitable here as there is always a good demand for young kids around Easter time, often more demand than can be supplied.

BENEFIT DANCE TO BE GIVEN ST. PATRICK'S

The members of St. Canice church will hold an entertainment and dance on the evening of St. Patrick's Day, Friday, March 17, at Red Men's Hall in this city. Active preparations for the festive event are in progress, the music for the occasion having already been arranged for and committees named for other details of the coming event. The proceeds of the dance and program are to be used as a benefit for the chuch and for its popular pastor, Rev., Father O'Reilly.

It is two years since St. Patrick's Day has been marked here by a St. Patrick's dance and as every one has always heartily enjoyed the previous evening celebrations of Ireland's patron saint it is expected this 1933 observance will meet with the same popularity the success of previous years.

Vincent V. Foley is chairman of the general committee; Mrs. Clayton Bennett has charge of arranging the numbers for the short program which will precede the dance; Mrs. Simon Heironimus is chairman of the committe which will offer choice home-made candies for sale during the evening; Annie R. Byrne is chairman of the publicity committee and Chester Scheemer has been appointed Floor Director. Mr. Scheemer will be assisted by a corps of capable assistants who will see that all who care to dance will enjoy the splendid music which will feature several hours of dancing.

While the state administration is urging the diversion of gasoline tax funds as a means of avoiding a state deficit, the state board of equalization called attention to the fact that revenue from the fuel tax is showing an alarming decease. The total tax collected last month was $2,669,278 as compared to $3,035,629 for January, 1932.

COPPER Higher prices are expected. Great interest shown in withdrawals of American Smelting and Refining Company from Copper Exports, Inc., the world association formed in 1929 to sell copper outside this country.

Of late, farm prices have been on the downgrade, but losses have been small. Cattle was one of the exceptions, showing a rise. Cotton, grain, hay, hogs and sheep took losses.
